

For Layasri, art is about capturing a single moment and expressing it through different ways. The incapability to render that moment perfectly through art is one of things that intrigue her. As a 9th grader at Eastlake, she enjoys many art forms, such as photography, paint, sketching and singing. Her favorite form is Zentangling, an abstract style of doodling. She has reached the state level of the PTSA Reflections visual arts contest in 2015 and 2016, and was a finalist in 2016. Layasri hopes to use her art to remind people of the uniqueness and remarkable features of nature.
